

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXVI.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1897.

NO. 62

MT. VERNON.

Dr. McDonald preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

The Christian Endeavor convention will be held here next Friday.

Several persons will apply to the town trustees for license to open saloons. The town is on the downgrade again.

The Ladies' Aid Society met with Mrs. Ann Albright Thursday. Next meeting will be with Mrs. W. B. Smith.

A fire alarm aroused the people Saturday evening. It started in the kitchen of Mr. W. J. Sparks; damage was slight.

Mr. E. E. Protheroe, of Brodhead, was in town last week mingling with his many friends and getting orders for his firm.

Our county has prospered under prohibition. The five county act went out of force Tuesday and local option is no more. Satan's emissaries are wily workers; one little clause in the new constitution has undone the work of years.

Mrs. Cleo Brown and Master McKenzie are spending a week in Louisville. Mrs. Brown will bring back a fine supply of lovely and stylish hats to tempt the ladies. Mrs. C. C. Williams has charge of Mrs. Brown's store during her absence.

Mr. Wm. Weber's family has moved to Chattanooga and Mt. Vernon suffers an irreparable loss. We can ill afford to lose such good, Christian people, whose influence is always in the cause of right and justice. Mrs. Patience Carpenter accompanied them.

The Gold Medal Contest was held at the court-house Wednesday evening. All of the speakers acquitted themselves well. The judges were Judge S. V. D. Stout, Messrs. P. M. McRoberts and Hugh Eldridge, who bestowed the medal upon Miss Annie Thompson of Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Rosalind Nesbitt recited "The Sisters on Strike," and closed the evening's entertainment with a brief temperance talk.

Mr. E. A. Reppert returned to New Orleans Friday night. He was made the subject of a good deal of newspaper notoriety while here attending court, having been summoned to a trial in which a piece of real estate he owns was involved. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Ashford, died of yellow fever during his visit here. He immediately hastened to the bedside of his prostrated wife.

Maurice Brown visited the home-folks Sunday. Miss Berda Martin is teaching at Gum Sulphur. Mrs. Rowsee is visiting her daughter at Lebanon Junction. Mr. Walter Saunders, of Livingston, attended the contest. Mr. Wm. McTigue has moved his family to Mr. H. H. Baker's town residence. The latter expects to move to his farm soon. Mr. Hugh Miller has returned from the city. Attorney Miller, of Lancaster, attended court here last week. Mrs. Susan Henderson's sale was well attended; the farm was sold. Mrs. Melrose Baker had her opening of Fall millinery Saturday. Mr. J. Tyree and family, of Pine Hill, visited Mr. George Gentry last week. Mrs. Franklin has opened her millinery in her new home on Main street. Messdames James Maret and Willis Adams have returned from a visit to relatives in the blue-grass region.

HUSTONVILLE.

Wm. Dodd sold a good three-year-old roadster Friday to Shelt Harrison, of Lexington, for $125.

S. Porter Stagg and wife, of your city, is spending a few days with his brother, W. D. Stagg, at Liberty.

Many of our farmers are sowing wheat, having gotten tired of waiting for rain. Joe Coffey will soon finish 175 acres.

On a three days' trip through Casey last week we were told that Green river was lower than ever known by the oldest inhabitant.

Prosperity is not on tap even in homoeopathic doses in Casey, but politics is at fever heat and now there is scarcely a leaf left on a bush in the woods by candidates. The drought seems to have effected everything living in Casey but Fred Durham at Middleburg. He's all right. The consensus of opinion throughout the county seems to be that Miss Lizzie Fogle will be elected county school superintendent, and undoubtedly should be, for the drop from State Senator to a little county office would surely knock all the wind, if not even the life out of Bro. Lay and his prospects for Congress would be as blue as Boss Davison's second term is in this district.

Robert Turner was shot twice at Richmond by his father-in-law Burgoine Breck. Both are Negroes.

George Beatty, of Woodford, is the reputed father of 36 children by three wives. All but six are living.

The municipal expenses of London are $70,000,000, of Paris $65,000,000 and of New York $40,000,000.

LANCASTER.

W. R. Cook has started a tobacco factory here and is having an old crop twisted.

The sick are generally better, though there are some fever patients improving very slowly.

The drought here has become alarming. Many of our citizens are hauling water from a distance and all vegetation is becoming prematurely parched. Every sign of rain has failed, even to the gray evening and red morning.

Alex Glibbs bought of Erasmus Dunn 40 cattle, weighing 1,165 pounds, at $3.75; 10 of T. M. Arnold at $3.85, and 11 of B. F. Hudson, weighing 1,200, at $3.75. W. S. Beazley and brother received 50 cattle from W. P. Grimes, of Lincoln, weighing 1,335, at $4 per hundred.

W. L. Lawson has accepted the democratic nomination for sheriff with C. A. Arnold as deputy. This makes a strong team, both parties being very popular, highly competent and trustworthy. The acceptance will give strength to the entire ticket, and with a united exertion, a democratic victory is sure to follow.

I was glad to meet my old friends at Stanford last Thursday and scenes and incidents of a happier period of my life were suggested by familiar faces and cherished spots. The town has, as it always had, a lively appearance and everybody seemed to be thriving. I was astonished when I met my old friend, A. A. Warren, with a lot of gold in his hand which he was going to pay out.

A little Jew, who travels for some Cincinnati merchant tailoring house, disputed with his landlord here the other day about his bill, when the landlord struck him and he struck the floor, only two blows being landed. He said afterward that he was a prize fighter but, only having entered the 105-pound class, he was unable to whip the landlord, who weighs over 200 pounds.

Elder George Gowen preached two very able sermons on Sunday. He has opened war on the debating and corrupting methods employed by candidates in procuring votes by the use of money and whisky. He announced that a deal was on foot to elect a board of city councilmen that would grant saloon licenses, and opened a vigorous war against the move, to continue until the vote was taken. His appeals to stand for the right, against all classes of evil, were eloquent and forcible, and will be productive of much good.

The nomination of George T. Farris, for State Senator, puts another good card into the democratic hand, which is now made up of the best trump cards, and the deal has stopped. Look out for your knave as the play goes on, and prepare to hand in your chips on Nov. 23. Mr. Farris is sober, honest, capable, in close touch with the party, has many friends and relatives in the district and, with his experience in electioneering, will draw votes to the entire ticket. He is the high card dealt to the hand to scoop the republican's King. Let us work now in harmony, stop the childish prattle and constant bickering about the past, and cease to agitate questions which are not involved, at present, and upon which we are not fully agreed. There are enough of vital principles involved to cause us to move in the ranks as a single man, and, when we put the cross under the rooster, we will have the pleasure of knowing that we voted for men who are all staunch democrats.

A howling crowd of republicans, of both colors, all ages, sizes and shapes, met at the convention last Thursday, when Noah Marsee was nominated for representative. L. F. Hubble withdrew early in the action and most of his strength went to Marsee, which caused O. J. Moberley to withdraw before the count was finished. Marsee is a native of Bell county and he was likely nominated to conciliate Hon. Wright Kelley and his friends, who came from the same county. The scheme will not work, as Kelley's friends claim that he was traded off in 1895, and he is expected to run independent. It looks like retribution will follow, even in republican ranks. L. L. Walker offered a resolution in the convention requiring all, who participated, to pledge themselves to support the nominee. Of course the resolution was adopted, but some of them may be under obligations to the other side before the election, and others may have business from home on that day, and they could not vote for the nominee. The nominations for all the county offices were ratified by the convention. Noah has a modern ark, which will be scuttled by democratic breakers.

Owing to scarcity of funds the State treasury will only pay one-fifth of the amount due schools, instead of the 40 per cent. which should be paid now.

Frank Stanton, of Circleville, Ohio, shot his son fatally because he went calling without asking his consent.

RELIGIOUS.

The State W. C. T. U. is in session at Glasgow.

Rev. J. N. Prestridge has resigned the presidency of the Baptist institution at Williamsburg, and also his pastorate at that place.

The Liberty Tribune says that Eld. P. A. Gilliam's revival at Mt. Olive resulted in 68 additions and his meeting at Poplar Grove in 106 additions to the Christian church.

Rev. Carter Helm Jones, of Louisville, has accepted the call to the Second Baptist church at Richmond, Va. He is a son of Rev. J. William Jones, the great war chaplain.

Miss Anne Shanks requests us to say that the C. W. B. M. will meet in the lecture room of the Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when a full attendance is desired.

Rev. T. H. Campbell, of Lancaster, who was here yesterday, told us that he and Rev. A. J. Pike closed a meeting at Gilead, Madison county, last week, which resulted in 23 conversions and two restorations.

Eld. J. T. Sharrard, pastor of the Christian church at this place, will resign his charge at the close of the year to take work in a new field, several of which are open to him. Mr. Sharrard is a fine preacher, an excellent gentleman and has done good work here. In common with his many outside friends, who have formed a strong attachment for him, we regret that he finds it best to leave us.

Program of the semi-annual meeting of the Christian churches of Lincoln county to be held in the Christian church at Crab Orchard, Oct. 9th: 10:00 A. M., devotional exercises. 11:15, address by S. H. Farrer. 10:45, address, J. S. Kendrick. 11:30, address, J. B. Pinkerton. 11:25, open parliament conducted by J. T. Sharrard. Subject, "How shall we Secure the Co-operation of the Churches of the County?"

DINNER.

1:00 P. M., devotional exercises. 1:05, reports of the churches. 1:20, address, J. L. Allen. 1:45, address, Joseph Bailou. 2:10, report of Evangelist J. G. Livingston. P. W. CARTER, Chmn.

MATRIMONIAL.

Mrs. Nola Bohon, of Harrodsburg, and A. H. McCure, of Frankfort, will be married Oct. 27.

W. F. Rowan and Miss Fannie Stull, both of the Kingsville section, were married at Frank Stull's Saturday.

Henry Hemming, aged 65, and Eliza Hemming, 60, who have been married once, will again be joined together at Owensboro this week.

John Green, aged 80, and Miss Caroline Stebbins, 76, were married at Alexander, Ind. They had been sweethearts for nearly 50 years.

Because his sweetheart went to church with another beau, Levi Hale, of Brownsville, Tenn., took enough morphine to kill himself, but the doctors saved him.

It is announced that Miss Hattie May Sandifer, youngest daughter of Judge N. Sandifer, and an exceedingly handsome girl, and Mr. Louis Cass Gabbert, of St. Joseph, Mo., will be married Oct. 5th.—Advocate.

Near Bellville, Mo., two men fought over which should have pretty Annie Shannell. One of the men lost a thumb and the other an ear in the battle and the girl decided to take the former. She couldn't stand a one-eyed man.

Hubble.

Some wheat is being towed here, notwithstanding the dust.

Hello, Stanford! No—give me INTERIOR JOURNAL office. When this becomes a reality it will meet with the wishes of many people. The line from here to Lancaster has been found to pay as well as convenient.

Dr. O'Neal presented Newell McQuerry and wife with a 10-pound boy Thursday night. J. S. Minor, of Louisville, was here with his son Ed last week. S. Dunbar is on the puny list.

E. T. Minor's mill and warehouse came near burning up last week. The fire was seen by neighbors and extinguished. Some boy passing by a short time before dropped a cigarette stub and it fired the grass by the road, burning it up to the building.

W. S. Tumey sold his fat hogs to Dave Prewitt at $3.60. Ed Minor and John Lynn have returned from Cincinnati and report a hard cattle market. B. Watts, of Richmond, passed with this week a drove of Shorthorn bull calves bought in various parts of the blue-grass at a cost of about $33. He is shipping them to his cattle ranch in Texas. G. A. Swinebroad has returned from Tennessee with 156 big cattle and a car load of work mules. Ed Minor bought a bay saddle horse of Dolph Rice for $40.

The Mississippi Valley Medical Association is in session at Louisville and will continue till the 8th.

POLITICS.

Forty-four people heard J. R. Hindman speak at Shelbyville Friday.

No presidential postmasters in Kentucky will be appointed until after the election, says McKinley.

Hon. Wm. J. Bryan will speak at Glasgow next Saturday and thereafter at points in the 1st, 2d and 4th districts.

Maurice Morris has demanded possession of the New Albany post-office but Postmaster Schindler, the democratic incumbent, refuses to step out until he has served four years.

Eighteen million dollars is the deficit in the government's receipts in the past six weeks, and the foreigner who pays the tax according to the republican gospel, will be forced to cough up this bagatelle.—Louisville Post.

Josiah Patterson is quoted by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat as pledging the Hannaerats to stand by the republican party in 1900 if they adhere to their St. Louis platform of 1896. Josiah is a republican in everything except in name.—Louisville Dispatch.

On the first day of this month the receipts in the United States treasury amounted to $766,359.94; the expenditures to $1,690,000. Deficit, $923,640.06. The deficit for the fiscal year to date amounts to $29,939,594.85. What's the matter with the Dingley tariff bill?

Editor D. E. O'Sullivan, of the Critic, saw Brer Hindman the other day and says: He had the sort of expression that a beaten man carries around with him. He looks as if he was weary of his job, and that he would like to be back on the old farm once more, where "the frost is on the pumpkin and the faller's in the shock."

Gov. McCreary pleaded for harmony in the democratic party and for the return of those who had differed with the Chicago platform upon the money question, while Allen O. Myers took the opposite view and declared he did not want them back. For our part we would prefer the leadership of our Kentucky statesman to that of the Ohio alarmist, to put it mildly.—Owenton Herald.

The Cynthiana Democrat says that in order to draw a crowd for Yost, after the ringing of the court-house bell had failed to bring an audience, the faithful few resolved themselves into what the French call a "claque." They got together and clapped their hands and stamped their feet and yelled with all their power, as if something great was going on. A few people from the street hurried in to see what the fuss was about, and Judge Yost was sufficiently encouraged to begin his speech. He is a brainy man and made a strong speech from his point of view. The people of Harrison county, however, do not care a rap for Judge Yost's point of view, and that is the reason he could not get an audience of respectable size. After the tragedy came the farce comedy, when Bailey and Parker began their joint debate. As a talker the very young Mr. Bailey is a howling success, that is to say, he can out talk a photograph. But he doesn't say anything. Any school boy could give him cards and spades and beat him out on an argument. The also very young Mr. Parker devoted his time to answering the alleged arguments of the very young Mr. Bailey. In some respects perhaps he was an improvement on the very young Mr. Bailey, but where both were so bad it would be difficult to decide which was the worse. This pair of spring chickens should be returned to the incubator. They are too tender to be wandering about the State by themselves. Some day they may accidentally run up against a democrat. If they do, the way he will devour them would make a whole Conference turn green with envy.

MIDDLEBURG.—Clarence Coleman, just back from Nashville, telephoned us yesterday that James Gann and wife are near death's door with typhoid fever. Thomas Jeffries died very suddenly Friday and was buried next day. Liberty and Middleburg boys crossed bats at Middleburg last Saturday, resulting in a victory for the home boys. Score 15 to 14. They will play at Liberty Saturday, Oct. 16.

The Richmond Register says that W. T. Covington has a mule that he bought when it was a yearling just 40 years ago. When it was two years old he had it broke, and from that day to this the animal has been in constant and continuous service, and is regularly used now. The mule is fat, active and strong and shows no signs of its great age.

The little town of Adairville has a record. In the past 32 years there have been 64 men killed there, four of whom were town marshals. There have been eight people killed there in 14 months. And still Adairville has the cleverest of people and is in one of the best sections of Kentucky.—Elkton Progress.

James Shackelford, of Indianapolis, died after sneezing incessantly for 36 hours.

QUEEN & CRESCENT.

During the Tennessee Centennial and International Exposition at Nashville, Tenn., a low rate special tariff has been established for the sale of tickets from Cincinnati and other terminal points on the Queen & Crescent Route.

Tickets are on sale daily until further notice to Chattanooga at $4.55 one way or $4.90 round trip from Junction City, the round trip tickets being good seven days to return; other tickets, with longer return limit, at $7.30 and at $9.95 for the round trip.

These rates enable the public to visit Nashville and other Southern point at rates never before offered. Vestibled trains of the finest class are at the disposal of the passenger, affording a most pleasant trip, and enabling one to visit the very interesting scenery and important battle-grounds in and about Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain and Chickamauga National Military Park. Tickets to Nashville to visit the Centennial can be purchased at Chattanooga for $3.40 round trip. Ask your ticket agent for ticket via the Q. & C. Route South or write to

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., OCTOBER 5, 1897

W. P. WALTON.

SIX PAGES.

DR. WOODS, of the Bowling Green Courier, demonstrates very thoroughly with his gray goose quill that the quality of gray matter in his honest cranial improves all the time and that age can not wither nor custom stale his infinite variety. His response to Mr. Watterson's article in answer to his, stating that the silver editorials of the Courier-Journal of 10 years ago were written by Col. Chilton and that at the time no one else was concerning himself about silver, is a very strong one, presenting as it does documentary evidence that John G. Carlisle, Mr. Beck and the Courier-Journal's ownest own, Mr. Bynum, were about that time concerning themselves very much about the white metal, the latter in March, 1886, using these words in a speech delivered in Congress: "I am in favor of the free coinage of silver because I believe it to be a palpable violation of the constitution and the rights of the States and the people to restrict the coinage of either metal. Silver is the money of the people." Dr. Woods also shows as far back as 1892 Mr. Watterson said "We must stand by silver." Thus proving that the trail of the silver serpent once hung over all those who now deride it.

EDITOR NEWLON, of the Owenton Herald, can stand a good deal for democracy's sake, but Allen O. Myers, the Ohio jail bird, is a little too much for him. He spoke at Owenton last week and the editor says in course of a long article that "as a whooper-up of the boys he has no equal to our knowledge, but upon the whole we doubt very much the wisdom of his coming. He said many, very many things that were better left unsaid. His reference to the clergy was but little short of blasphemy, and his auditors, especially the ladies, ought to have signified their disapproval and disgust by leaving the hall at once. But we are a patient, polite and long-suffering people, and very considerably heard him through, with a few exceptions. Mr. Myers seems to be possessed of the idea that the whole world is out of order and to set it right is his special mission. In all frankness we can not endorse Mr. Myers as our ideal of a statesman or a democrat." Kentucky democrats do not need such cattle as Myers to tell them how to vote, and it would be much better for the democratic party in the State to let him stay in Ohio.

GEN. NEAL DOW, the original and greatest of all prohibitionists, has gone to his reward, after fighting the demon of strong drink for more than three-score years and ten. He was 94 years of age and began his war against king alcohol even before he reached his majority. Besides waging that ceaseless warfare, he also fought in the Federal army during the late war, going in at 60 as a colonel and coming out as general. His last words were "This is the end and all is well."

AFTER Dick Williams beats Judge D. P. Bethurum he will have to seek other means for a livelihood than he has enjoyed. His occupation of pension attorney is gone, the department at Washington, a dispatch says, having debarred him from practice before the Interior department, because he is charged with filing forged declarations in pension cases. If Dick goes on the stump and tells that on him, the judge won't get enough votes to count, if the republicans voters are as honest as they ought to be.

WHEN a man starts on the down grade, he goes to the devil as fast as shooting the shuttle. That sweet-scented geranium, we should say Violet, who bolted the democratic nominee for U. S. Senator and made the election of a republican possible, has gone from bad to worse till he has now gotten so low that he gladly gets under the Log Cabin, in order to secure an office hardly worth running for. Verily the last end of that man is worse than the first.

ACCORDING to Judge Cantrill, the Louisville school board has been caught trying to rob the State. Supt. Davidson thought so and declined to pay the per capita for $2,000 children. A suit to compel him to do so was entered and the judge decides that he shall accept no census over $9,999. The methods of the board show looseness of management, if no more serious charge can be brought against them.

HUNTER has "accepted" the Guatemalan mission, as they say when a man takes a place that he has been begging for months and months. The sooner he sails the better and may be forgot even to return, is our prayer as well as Gov. Bradley's.

THE Frankfort court fixed the price for cohabiting editors at $100 when done by women. At that stiff figure the "cat will hardly come back."

MAJ. LEWIS GINTER, of Richmond, Va., who was a poor man at the close of the war, but who made $10,000,000 by manufacturing these little coffin nails, known as cigarettes, has gone doubtless to that bourne, where there is a great deal of smoking but not of cigarettes. He was reputed to be the richest man in the South, but what profiteth it for a man to gain the whole world and then go to the devil for making things to steal away the brains and health of the rising generations? Maj. Ginter leaves a monument to his memory which will keep it green for a long time, in the shape of a hotel, the Jefferson, which he built a few years ago in Richmond, said to be the finest in the South. Its magnificence can be imagined when it is told that it cost over a million of dollars.

THERE will be no Reform Schools this year. Perhaps 'smother year there may be some place to separate young criminals from the old hardened ones, but for the present they will have to be crowded in together unless the governor uses his prerogative. The mandamus suit entered to compel the auditor to issue warrants on the $100,000 appropriated for the institutions is tied up in Judge Cantrill's over-crowded court and he may not be able to render a decision before January. There are other cases just as urgent that are also held up because the judge can not get to them, all of which shows that there should be a circuit court of continuous session at Frankfort, so that cases of the kind referred to that are continually coming up might receive prompt attention.

THE court of appeals reverses one death sentence because the court permitted the sheriff to detail the confession of the prisoner made under promise of protection from a mob that was after him, and another because the court after admitting as true the statement in an affidavit of an affiant not present, permitted the Commonwealth to produce testimony contradicting the affidavit. This do technicalities continue to cut more figure than proof, to help murderers go unwhipped of justice. No wonder with the courts and executive to shield criminals that the prerogatives of Judge Lynch are so often invoked.

JUDGE CANTRILL, knocks the socks off of Secretary of State Finley's claim for $1,000 per annum extra salary for managing the corporation department of his office, on the grounds of unconstitutionality. Mr. Finley has been getting that amount in addition to his regular salary of $3,000 and he will have to refund, if the court of appeals sustain the circuit judge, which will cut quite a hole in the amount laid aside to further his Congressional ambition.

THE republicans and bolshoists of the Frankfort district recognize the fact that they can not combine and beat Judge Cantrill, so they have decided to give him a clear track. He has made a big reputation as a capable judge and deserves a unanimous re-election.

THE Louisville Times printed a picture of Miss Elvira Sydney Miller, Saturday. At least those who know the lady readily recognized its "Newspaper Woman" as the charming and delightful Tattler.

Additional Local.

MARRIAGE—Gottfried Spitzer, a widower of 50, and Miss Magdalena Neunstocklin, 36, obtained license yesterday and will be married at Ottenheim today.

THE 25th annual meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association begun in Lexington yesterday and the great Futurity will be trotted today.

PETE HUSTON waived his examining trial yesterday for shooting Al Young, also colored, and was held over till circuit court in $200, which he gave. The wounded man is getting along nicely.

SALE.—Col. W. Huff Dudderar sold yesterday to S. H. Baughman for William Cordier and wife his property known as the John Flowers place, near Rowland, for $3,100. There are 31 acres in the tract, upon which there is a good dwelling.

HURT.—Miss Mai Elliott, of the Maywood section, was thrown from the horse she was riding yesterday and lighting on her head concussion of the brain was caused. She was rendered unconscious but was at herself and doing nicely when Dr. O'Bannon left yesterday afternoon.

AND the cry is still "No rain." The country presents an appearance almost as if a fire had swept over it. Everything appears to be burned up, the trees being killed in many instances. Drinking water is getting scarce in many localities, while stock water is almost out of the question. The water works is still holding out manfully and furnishing all the water we need with a reservoir in reserve to be used in case of fire. The supply here may not be as great as that which Danville gets from dirty Dix river, but it is sufficient for all purposes, including the large quantity furnished the railroad and the managers haven't gotten to the point of selling water at 10c a barrel, as at Danville, which with its great supply, seems to be a very picaresque business.

WE present with this issue a facsimile of the ballot to be voted four weeks from to-day, together with the pictures of our excellent nominees for district and county officers. To vote for every one of them as most honest people will do, you have only to procure the official ballot, go into the booth, stamp the stencil at the foot of the rooster, fold your ballot, give it to the election officer and go away with the proud satisfaction of having done your duty.

GARRARD county republicans take no stock in turn coats and unlike that party in this county, they give them the cold shoulder. L. Frank Hubbie, who used to be known as Cleveland, asked the small potato—a nomination for representative and they scoured him from the temple. Over here, however, the rats have to draw on ex-demonstrators, who held membership in that party for revenue only, or they could not get sufficient material to put out a full ticket.

THE startling report came to town that a child was born in the knobs a few days ago with a full set of teeth and a long full beard. Shortly after its advent it raised itself up, surveyed the surroundings and in sepulchral voice remarked: "It is not going to rain for seven years." Then it lay down again and gave up the ghost. The story may and then again it may not be true, but you had better be getting your water supply all the same. Seven years is a long time between rains.

HUNG AS HIGH AS HAMAN.—Mr. W. S. Warren is in receipt of a letter from his sister, Miss Mary Warren, who is visiting at Woodstock, Pulaski county, stating that Charlie Waddle, the 18 year old son of William Waddle, of that section, committed suicide by hanging from a tree in the woods. He was 30 feet from the ground when cut down and had been missing nearly two days. The young man's mind had been in a bad state for some time and those who knew him well are not greatly surprised at his rash act.

BARN BURNED.—At 8:30 Friday night the fire alarm was sounded and almost instantly the streets were filled with people, ready and willing to render what services they could. The fire company got out in a hurry and started up Lancaster street at a break-neck speed but it was soon discovered that Mr. W. M. Bright's barn was burning and the horse wagons were deserted and the majority of the fire ladders ran to the scene. The barn, which was 14 miles from town, was filled with hay and as the flames were under heavy headway, nothing could be done except save the fences around and put out the dry grass that would catch every now and then. In the barn were 375 bales of timothy hay and 30 acres of clover, valued at $550 and upon which Mr. Bright had made application for insurance to Agent R. B. Mahony the afternoon before. Besides the hay there was a lot of farm machinery, harness and the like and the loss on building and all is not less than $1,000 to $1,200. The origin of the fire is not known. Wallace Farmer, who lives on the place, was in town at the time and neither he nor Mr. Bright thinks that the latter has an enemy mean enough to burn his property, but on the contrary both are satisfied that it caught from spontaneous combustion or that a tramp who was probably sleeping in it did the work accidentally. Mr. Bright is very thankful to those who came to his rescue and worked so nobly to save his property.

DROPPED DEAD.—John Stuart, who had made his home with the late Arch Carson at Crab Orchard for years, and who was an uncle of W. A. Carson, of that place, died in the buggy as he was being brought here Saturday to be tried for lunacy. He was a man of many eccentricities and many thought him of unsound mind. Since Mr. Carson's death he had imagined that he owned the property left by him and notwithstanding Mr. W. A. Carson's efforts to have a sale and dispose of his father's effects, Mr. Stuart stubbornly refused to give up the premises. At last it was decided to try him for lunacy and Saturday, Marshal Joe A. Shannon and J. D. Steenberg started with him for this place. He became greatly alarmed at the officer's presence and the big pistol which was exposed also scared him greatly. All went well, however, till nearing the bridge over Cedar creek, when he threw up his hands, gasped and died almost instantly. The corpse was taken back to Crab Orchard, where it was interred. One of his peculiarities was his serious objection to getting close to any one. He disliked to talk and lived an almost entirely isolated life. Mr. J. H. Stephens, who knew him well, says that for the last 15 years he had slept in a box, the top of which he invariably laid down before he went to sleep. No one was permitted to enter his room, which it is said, was always kept in order. For years the State had paid Mr. Carson the small sum of $75 per year for keeping him and he no doubt would have been sent to the asylum long ago had it not been for the old gentleman's devotion for his unfortunate brother-in-law. He was nearly 75 years old.

THE famous picture play, "Miss Jerry," will be presented by its inventor, Alexander Black, at the Lanville Opera House next Friday night, 8th, and Rev. W. B. McBride was here Saturday advertising it. The love story is illustrated by 250 stereopticon pictures of real scenes and real people and is said to be as delightfully refreshing and original as it is unique. Our amusement lovers should embrace the opportunity to see it, especially since the full moon will shine that night and make the drive more pleasant.

THE musical contest given by Misses Annie May Stewart, M. B. and Lullia Givens, drew a full house, including 125 or more white people who enjoyed the most of the program hugely. There were four contestants for vocal honors: Mrs. Patton, of Richmond; Miss Bertha Johnson, Lancaster; Miss Lullia Givens, Stanford; and Miss Kate Plunkett, Louisville. All did well, but the latter proved a veritable "Black Patti" and the judges, Mrs. Steele Bailey, Mrs. Joe Portman, Miss Mary Cowen and Messrs. B. H. Danks and W. P. Walton unanimously awarded her the first prize, a handsome gold watch and the second to Mrs. Patton, an emerald ring, by a like vote. The first prize winner would have also won the prize in the fat woman's ring, if that had been included in the program and she is a singer from the head-waters of Awayback. The cake walk was quite amusing. There were three couples, Will Caldwell, of Danville, and Miss Annie Cole, of Louisville, Joe Hayden (not the superintendent of the water works) and Miss Lullia Givens, of Stanford, and Allen Hill and Miss Cora B. Givens, also of Stanford, with Barnes Williams as drill master. The movements were as fantastic as the costumes and the gyrations as gaudy as a gymnast's. It didn't take the judges, John Cook, E. H. Farmer, Robert Fish, Leslie Givens and Anderson Hocker long to award the big cake to the first couple and the little one to the last named, J. E. French, of Paris, who delivered the prizes, also made a very creditable opening address, showing that he was a Negro of considerable ability. The recitations by Misses Dora Stewart and Cora Givens were really good as was that of E. B. Cheatham, of Danville. Miss Mollie Miller, of Richmond, and Prof. A. J. Bell, of Louisville, were the accompanists and did their work well. The entire entertainment was very creditable and we are glad that the promoters made a nice little sum. The fire alarm just before the curtain arose nearly caused a stampede, but fears were finally calmed and order restored.

A LIE OUT.—THE INTERIOR JOURNAL never publishes anything unless it believes it true and is backed by the proof. In our last issue, on the statement of a reputable gentleman, we printed a paragraph that Mr. A. C. Carman had stated in his speech at Turnersville that he was proud that he voted for Abe Lincoln before he was 21 and advised all Negroes to try to vote, whether they succeeded or not. Mr. Carman was in next day to say that while he did make the statement that he voted for Lincoln illegally, he never advised anybody else to break the laws. Our informant still reiterates that Mr. Carman said exactly what we published and told him that if he can not substantiate it by five unimpeachable witnesses he will admit that he has lied. If he can—then Mr. Carman has, he says, whether he admits it or not.

While he was in our office we took occasion to ask Mr. Carman if he were not an anti-free turnpike and if he did not vote against the proposition to free them. He said he did not vote on the question at all, thus proving that he was not for freeing the pikes, though he says he believes in the principle. He also said that he begged and pleaded with Boss Davison not to make any efforts in that line at the time he did, as the county was $30,000 in debt and could not afford to increase it. After the election Mr. Carman told Mr. T. C. Rankin that the Bryanites voted man for man for free turnpikes, which carried it, thus trying to throw the blame on the democrats. Mr. Carman would have gotten the nomination for county judge but for his well known opposition to free pikes. We are finding no fault with him, however, on his position. We hold the same views and still hold them, but it is rather strange that a party which claims so much credit for being for free pikes should nominate a man originally so opposed to them. Right here it may be proper for the benefit of those who are unable to get an idea into their skulls that we were for a new election on the pike question because the other would have been declared null and void and we will vote for free pikes next time in order that the will of the majority may be carried out and because when one county freed its pikes the whole system was knocked out.

A Word To You.

Having considered the question from almost every standpoint, we have decided to adopt

THE CASH SYSTEM,

Beginning July 1, 1897, believing that it will be more satisfactory to both buyer and seller. No bad debts will accumulate, consequently we can sell goods cheaper. It will take much less capital, our expenses will be less and there is every reason why the cash system will prove satisfactory. We only ask you to try it awhile and if you find it is not to your advantage, we will not kick on your buying from merchants who sell on credit. We are satisfied we can sell you goods from 10 to 25 per cent. cheaper than the credit men and this should certainly be an inducement to you. Very truly,

A new remedy was recently suggested for cold in the head. The treatment consisted of a few tight taps with a rubber hammer on the forehead just above the root of the nose. The discoverer of this remedy claims that slight shocks on the forehead cause the blood vessels to contract.

By actual measurement of 50 skeletons the right arm and left leg have been found to be longer in 23, the left arm and right leg in 6, the limbs on the right longer than those on the left in 4, and in the remainder the inequality of the limbs was varied. Only 7 out of 70 skeletons measured, or 10 per cent, had limbs of equal length.

MISS NELLIE ELY.

Appointed a Colonel on the Staff of Tennessee's Governor.

Woman's sphere has extended to every field of human effort except the field of battle. No states can lay claim to better right to extend this prerogative to the sex than Georgia and Tennessee. Nearly every foot of soil in these two commonwealths has known the fury of shell and fire.

In the absence of any constitutional prohibition in their respective states, Gov. Atkinson, of Georgia, and Gov. Robert L. Taylor, of Tennessee, have seen fit to appoint ladies on their staffs, with the commissions of colonel.

Those martial qualities and those soldierly instincts which John d'Arc developed on the field are not looked for nor expected from these young women. They are not asked to buckle on armor and go forth seeking whom they may devour. Their commissions were graceful recognition of the fact that "Pence hath her victories no less renowned than war."

The fair colonel from Tennessee is a typical representative of an illustrious lineage. Col. Nellie Ely springs from a family that has contributed to the history of two states.

Her antecedent, Gov. Isaac Shelby, enjoyed the unique distinction of having been the first governor of Kentucky and the subsequent governor of the later sister commonwealth of Tennessee. She comes of a race of beautiful women. Her mother was Miss

MISS NELLIE ELY. (Appointed Colonel on the Staff of Tennessee's Governor.)

Ruth Whiteside, of Shelbyville, Tenn., who was noted in her day for being one of the south's most beautiful and cultured women.

An aunt of Col. Ely was the famous southern beauty, Miss Maggie Whiteside, now Mrs. Judge Bearden, whose fame as a belle was coextensive with the south in antebellum days. Another aunt of this gifted and accomplished officer was Mrs. James Mather, who is well remembered in New York society.

Col. Ely has been the leading spirit in the chief military functions of this state since her debut. She received the best educational advantages and supplemented them by close application to the finer arts.

Gov. Taylor has known her since childhood. Warm friendship has existed between the governor and the colonel's father, Mr. Jesse Ely, for years. Her appointment is perhaps due in some measure to this friendship, but chiefly to the social triumph she achieved on the occasion of the late reunion ball, when, as vice president of the club, she devoted all her energies to its success. She wore neither jewelry nor flowers upon this occasion, but appeared in a plain gown of red satin. Her beauty, however, with her native refinement and modesty of demeanor, made her conspicuous when least she sought to be. It was on this occasion that Gov. Taylor announced his intention of commissioning her a colonel.

She is a brunette of medium stature. In her every movement there is grace, and in every glance of her large, brilliant eyes there is that peculiar charm so noted in the southern type.—N. Y. Herald.

Love Messages on Flowers. South American lovers have a pretty custom. It is well known that when the petals of the great laurel magnolia are touched, however lightly, the result is a brown spot, which develops in a few hours. The fact is taken advantage of by the lover who pulls a magnolia flower, and on one of its pure white petals write a motto or message with a hard, sharp-pointed pencil. Then he sends the flower, the young lady puts it in a vase of water, and in three or four hours the message written on the leaf becomes quite visible and remains so.

GAUDY HANDKERCHIEFS.

All the Colors of the Rainbow to be Seen Next Season.

Handkerchiefs next season will be gaudier than ever before. They will be of all the colors of the rainbow, in solids, stripes, plaids, polka dots and figures. Even white ones will not be plain, for, when not heavily embroidered, they will be lace trimmed, not with one edge of lace as heretofore, but with several lace frills placed one above the other and on both sides of the handkerchief, for the fashionable article has neither right nor wrong side.

Many samples shown have centers of solid colors—colors, not tints—with borders in contrasting colors, plaids, checks, polka dots and pronounced floral designs. Other handkerchiefs appear to be thin bits of colored muslin over which small flowers or leaves are strewn. To a careless observer they seem nothing more or less than hem-stitched squares of printed lawn. Close inspection shows a linen of the daintiest quality, with a regular and generally highly artistic design, stamped as distinctly on one side as the other. Black, navy blue, scarlet and brown handkerchiefs embroidered in white, black or contrasting colors are to be used by travelers and should always correspond in color with the toilet. Traveling handkerchiefs should never be lace-trimmed.

One of the newest and daintiest handkerchiefs to be seen is of sheer white or light colored linen muslin, with a triple border of finely-plaied footings. The footings, of course, is always white. There is no hemstitching, the first row being whipped on a rolled edge, while the second row is put on, one row on either side of the handkerchief, just above. This handkerchief, though so simple that it could be easily made at home, is especially dainty looking, and adapted to go with the most elegant toilet. Frills of lace are put on in a similar manner, sometimes as many as six rows being used to the side. Of course one great trouble with these dainty bits of lace-trimmed muslin will be the difficulty of having them washed, but the dealers say this objection is overcome by the narrowness of the lace. After washing, they need only to be rubbed over with the iron, and when taken out for use the lace is pulled out between the fingers, making the handkerchief much fresher in appearance than it would be were the lace pulled out on leaving the wash.—N. Y. Sun.

NEW BICYCLE SADDLE.

It is Constructed Especially for the Women.

The latest thing in bicycle seats, and one to which it is said physicians can make no objection whatever, is the new ball bearing saddle. It is made in two separate parts, adjusted with special adaptability to the human anatomy, and has been made with special care as a woman's saddle. It is the only saddle which has ever been constructed on the common sense plan and the only saddle which is built especially for women. It moves with the body, avoids all irritation, and secures greater comfort and freedom than other styles of saddle.

SENSIBLE BICYCLE SADDLE.

Its hygienic qualities are its recommendation. Many women who have not been able to endure the ordinary saddles, and hence have never thoroughly enjoyed riding a wheel, will be able to take much pleasure out of the new one. These are made in any color, to fit any wheel, and adapted to any weight. It is said to be the most sensible seat made.

How to Remove Cinders.

When traveling always carry a tiny box of flaxseed for possible cinders, is the advice given by a medical journal. The instant a foreign substance is felt in the eye throw back the head and drop two or three flaxseeds on the ball of the eye, and lift the upper lid and draw it down over them, so as to hold them in. There is no disagreeable sensation attached to putting the seed in, and the relief will come instantly. The moisture of the eye dampens the seed, and it gives out a mucous substance which spreads over the eye and covers the grit. After awhile the seeds will begin to work out, and will bring the offending particle with them.

Curious Marriage Custom.

In Brittany there is said to prevail a curious marriage custom. On certain fete days the young ladies appear in red petticoats, with white or yellow borders around them. The number of borders denotes the portion the father is willing to give his daughter. Each white band denotes silver—100 francs per annum; each yellow band represents gold—a thousand francs a year.

Union Suit Sale.

We herewith offer our trade what is undoubtedly the best values ever offered in Underwear anywhere by any one. This is a big claim, but it is all true. We will tell you why we can do this. These Union Suits are made by an old Quaker manufacturer in Philadelphia, from whom we have been getting them for five years. He made only high-grade wool goods for ladies and children, but for the last two seasons, on account of heavy demand for cheap goods, he found his goods too fine to sell fast, so this year he has turned his machines on other goods. He had left over 500 Children's Wool Union Suits in three grades which he offered to close at one-half the prices we had been paying him. We took the lot, as we are always after special values to offer our customers. We have sold these goods for five years, and know that they are made of the finest and choicest wool obtainable and

MR. JOSEPH WOODSON, of St. Joseph, Mo., arrived Friday to visit Miss Fannie Shanks.

WILL S. EMERY is clerking at the Myers House during Proprietor A. G. Huffman's illness.

MR. L. N. SHEPPARD, of Monticello, spent several days with his relative, Judge M. C. Sautley.

JAMES R. NUNNELLY spent Sunday with his wife here, who has been quite sick for the last month.

MISS W. M. MCKINNEY went to Louisville Saturday to take little Raymond Cook Tyree to his parents.

MRS. EDNA BURDETT, of Paris, Texas, is visiting the families of Messrs. M. S. and J. W. Baughman.

THE Advocate says that Mr. Robert G. Evans has developed a mild type of typhoid fever and is quite sick.

MRS. MATTIE KIRBY and Nannie Vandever went up to Mt. Vernon yesterday to visit Miss Mattie Williams.

MISS CLAUDE AND MAUDE CARTER spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Mary D. Carter at Crab Orchard.

MISS NANNIE PREWITT, who has been visiting Mrs. W. P. Tate, returned to her home at Jeffersonville, Friday.

ALLEN CONNETT, an experienced bottler of Cincinnati, has arrived to superintend W. H. Traylor's bottling works.

W. T. MERIMEE, who has been working a "trick" in the Rowland dispatcher's office, has returned to Livingston to work.

MESSRS. TRUEHEART TAYLOR, of Huntington, W. Va., and A. Gaines, of Atlanta, were guests of Miss Florence Trueheart.

THE Birmingham Age-Herald says that A. A. McKinney, Jr., is held in the detention camp till his chances for having yellow fever are over.

MRS. MATT WOODSON, who has been at her father, Mr. O. J. Crow's, since the hot weather began, spent several days with her husband at Middleboro.

WE are indebted to Mr. Mack Hoffman for files of the Butte City, Montana, papers, who is now enjoying a visit to his brother, J. M. Huffman in that far off city.

LITTLE Miss Mary Burch will leave today to visit her aunt, Miss Rachel Allison, in Lexington and will go from there to Georgetown, Paris and Cincinnati with her.

MOSE COOK, who has spent several weeks with his relatives in this county, returned to Nashville Saturday. Mr. Julius H. Hocker, of Hustonville, returned with him and will take in the Exposition.

MR. S. W. MENESEE, of the D. & D. Institute, was here Sunday, telling of a wonderful trip he made to Hyden, Leslie county, for deaf and dumb children. He says the mountains are as dry as it is here and traveling in them is very disagreeable.

MISS ANNIE BRONAUGH ENGLEMAN, a charming blonde of Lincoln county, is a visitor at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Fish, and is being royally entertained by Miss Fish. She is one of the most popular young ladies who has visited here in a long while.—Courier-Journal cor. Nicholasville.

THE Columbia, Tenn., Herald has this item: An afternoon reception was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hodge last Saturday from 5 to 7, by their little daughter, Lucille, complimentary to her little visitors. Ned and Annie Smith, of Stanford, Ky. Delicate refreshments were served and the little folks made the welkin ring with their merry voices.

FIRE.—Mary Stuart's house in Mackville caught fire Sunday morning but was put out before much damage was done. The fire company was not called out.

SPEAKING.—Hon. R. C. Warren and democratic nominee for representative, M. F. North, will speak at Milledgeville Thursday night. Don't fail to hear them.

THE air is full of scandals, but the INTERIOR JOURNAL is laying low and saying nothing for the present. Something is going to "drum" before long, however, and then look out.

MAKING FLOUR.—Messrs. Carter & Straub's mill ground first wheat Saturday when Miller D. V. Kennedy says he turned out flour as white as snow. See "ad." in another column.

I ATTACH no blame to Myers Bros., whose threshing was on my place the night of my fire. The engine was fully half a mile away and had been stopped two hours before fire was discovered. W. M. Bright.

THE South Eastern Kentucky Medical Society will meet at Richmond Friday. Dr. Ramsey, of Danville, is president and Dr. Mason, of London, secretary. Dr. J. G. Carpenter, of Stanford, is down to read an important paper.

ONE OR 'TOTHER.—Hon. M. F. North asks us to say as emphatically as it can be said that anybody who says he was ever a republican or that he ever will be with the lights before him, is either an ignorant falsifier or a plain, every day liar.

IN the circuit court at Danville, Peter Gilcher sued Alexander Tribble for $1,775 balance due for rent. Mr. Tribble put in a counter claim of failure of contract and Saturday a jury allowed him damages to the extent of $1,200 by giving Gilcher a verdict for only $575.

PUBLIC SALE.—On Thursday, Oct. 14, 1897, at the late residence of Maj. F. D. Rigney, at Phil. Casey county, I will offer for sale all the stock, crop and farming implements, household and kitchen furniture. The farm will be rented if not sold. W. O. Rigney, 2t.

LET it be distinctly understood that the Polk Miller entertainment is not a lecture, but a conglomeration of humorous story, pathetic sketch, quaint impersonations, Negro folk-lore, characteristic songs and banjo picking. It is both unique and mirth provoking. Remember the date—Oct. 20.

IT is less than a month till the election and during that time a great deal of pulling and hauling and speechifying will be done. There is no great deal of speculation as to the result as it is almost conceded that the ticket nominated by the democrats will defeat the one put out by the republican committee, 13 of the 36 of whom are Negroes. The better element of both classes will find little trouble in deciding to stamp under the rooster.

The Best
 Disc Drill
BEST : MADE !

Lies Don't Go.—Messrs. B. K. Wearen & Son, Stanford—Gentlemen: In reply to your letter will say that the Kentucky Disc Drill stands strictly on its merits; the makers fight their law suits in court and not in the papers and no purchaser of this drill need fear any legal entanglement. Also that other drills must be deficient in real merit when their makers seek to scare people into buying them. We guarantee protection. Yours, Brennan & Co's. Western Agricultural Works, Louisville. Sept. 2. Bluffs won't work. There is no mistake about this machine being double-grooved. Farmers can see for themselves.

We are making preparations for a big output of goods. When you hear our prices you will then know we mean to sell the goods. Our aim in making these unprecedented prices is to reach out and furnish our adjoining counties, which fact has always proven itself where a customer favored us with a call. We are here for business, quick sales and small profits.

W. W. WITHERS, STANFORD.

Branch Store at Hustonville, H. R. Camnitz, Manager.

The Best is always Imitated. The Superior is the Genuine Disc Drill. Has been thoroughly tested and gives satisfaction. All other Disc Drills are an experiment and an infringement on the Superior. Suit has been entered in the U. S. Court against one company for infringement. Farmers, investigate before buying.
